BOARD OF EDUCATION AND THE ORPHAN

ANNLYM .- The final decision of the Supreme Court on the claims of the two Orphan Asylums of Brookiyn to a share of the Common School fund, has just been made. The case involves several questions of interest, and has been contested with vigor and perseverance. This is the fourth decision that has been made, in the course of the litigations, upon the various matters involved. The claim of the Asylum is founded upon an act of the Legislature, passed in 1848, which gave to them a distributive share of the School moneys raised in the City of Brooklyn, in the same manner and to the same extent as the Common or District Schools in the city. The Board of Education, it seems, denied that the law was constirutional, they also insisted that if the Asylums were entitled to anything, it was only to so much of the Common School fund as was collected by special city tax, and not to any part of what was raised by County tax, or received from the State. These and other questions have been examined by Judge Brown, and he comes to the conclusion that the Asylums are entitled to participate in the entire fund distributable by the Board of Education, from whatever source derived that the ratio of distribution is the proportion of the number of children in the Asyium, between the ages of four and sixteen, to the average attendance of children between the same age in the District School, and not in proportion to the whole number of children in the several districts of the city, as contended for by the Board of Education. He also decides that the Asylums are entitled to be paid the amount that should have been paid to them in the years 1848, 1849 and 1850. A peremptory mandames is ordered to enforce distribution upon the principles thus settled.

Watson G. Haynes-Correction. TO THE EDITORS OF THE NEW-YORK TRIBUNE

Will you confer a favor on me by correcting a wrong impression on the public mind, i. e. that Mr. Greeley collected $1,000 for my benefit. Many Mr. Greeley collected $1,000 for my benefit. Many persons suppose there were several thousand dollars collected for me, when the fact is, by reference to the books of the cashier in The Triona office, it will be at once seen that only $157 was contributed. I would not trouble yourself or the public with this statement, were it not that there is an impression on many minds that I have made considerable money by agitating the obolition of the lash. Every cent of the amount received went towards paying off debts contracted in that cause, of which I am not by any means clear yet, nor likely to be until I earn it with my hands. Respectfully. Webster's Resignation not Certain-Our Reintions with Mexico, &c.
Correspondence of The New-York Tribune.
Washington, Monday, Aug. 18, 1851.

There is no real foundation for the story

Congress. I am well aware who the parties are that make the more. There is nothing definite or reliable about it There was a time, not long since, when the strong probabilities were that Mr. WEASTER would withdraw from the Cabinet within a very few months but the political horoscope has presented a different phase since then, and the reasons which might then nave operated are of much less force now. At all events, however rumon may have it, it is certain that the most intimate personal friends of the Secretary of State regard these reports as totally without found.

As I informed you some time since would be the As I mornied you some time since would be the case, the Government have sent out by Governor IETCHER an earnest remonstrance against the technical annulment of the Garay grant by the action of the Mexican Congress. Our Minister, I undersand, is instructed to do everything in his power to consummate the treaty recently presented to the lexican Government, or negotiate such a new one is will be satisfactory to both Governments. The Austrian Dominions-Popular Feeling there-Madame Belgioloso.

Correspondence of The New-York Tribune.

That part of what the Emperor of Austna considers has dominion, under the title of the Lombardo-Venitian kingdom, is still far from being satisfied with his rule. There are frequent outbreaks of popular feeling in Milan, and the people frankly say that they are Austrian subjects only by Jaror. On the 25th an assassination occurred there when tells the state of public feeling. The Austrian Gov ernment retains a large number of unfortunals sons in close confinement for their political scatiments, the fortress of Italy (Austrian Italy) are filled with them, and doubtless many will linger out a dreary existence there till death shall release them from their inhuman persecutors. It ferrets them out by means of paul spics—most of whom are among the "Legal" Doctors. One of these had for some time been on the watch for a voung man, said to be of some 16 years of age, and laid accusations against him, on which he has been condemined by whem is unknown) to four years service in the galleys, with feions of the worst order. The case of the vouth excited as much sympathy as the conduct of the traducer did a thirst for revenge in the minds of his friends. One of the latter waylad the Lawyer, and left a knife sticking in his heart. The assum escaped, and there has been, thus far, no hair of him found. The fate of the deceased is spoken of with marked favor by all the liberals of Milan and Venice.

All the cities of Italy under Austrian misrule, have an appearance of treatesse and apathy. There is no business performed, all the houses and palanes of the weather inhabitants are closed, the theaters do not represent the storps are fading, and it is cally the grocers and peasants who bring in table produce for sale who are seen to make any sales. The splendid palace is crumbling for want of the festering care of the unhappy owner, and the smaller houses and shops have a dreary, desolute appear ance, showing the effect which oppression has upon the mind of a people who want to exercise the rights natural to human beings in all countries. The people of Lombardy still hope for an opportunity to rise against their present rulers, they have no sympathy with the Austrians, who are a totally different people from themselves, and can never be on better with the Austrians, who are a totally different people from themselves, and can never be on better terms with them than they are at present. In this city the same feeling exists, and the people of Loomhardy, Venice and Hungary are united in their hard of a common foe. All this part of Irally is filled with Austrian trong, mostly litingarians and Croatians, while the recruits from here are sent into flungary. It is quite incomprehensible to an American eitizen, familiar with the institutions of his country, and the part which every one of his country, and the part which every one of his country, and the part which every one of his country, and the part which every one of his country, and the part which every one of his country, and the part which every one of his country, and the part which every one of his country and the part which every one of his country, and the part which every one of his country and the part which every one of his country, and the part which every one of his country and the part which every one of his country, and the part which every one of his country and the part which every one of his country, and the part which every one of his country, and the part which every one of his country, and the part which every one of his country, and the part which every one of his country, and the part which every one of his country, and the part which every one of his country, and the part which every one of his country, and the part which every one of his country, and the part which every one of his country, and the part which every one of his country, and the part which every one of his country, and the part which he devicted brought forward, and the manner in the license law. The principle "We will" is as good in posities as in religion, and if Man is left by ins Creator to choose for himself between good indexif, and thereby sock his saivation, the same famility is surely not the less so in worldly matters of a political nature, when his temperal salvation is at stake.

Among the residences of the exiled Milanese nobility we saw at Milan, the splendid palace of the Pincess Belgionson, now at Constantianople, where she enjoys the protection (effectual, though little better than nominal) of the Legation of the United States. A NEW MOTOR .- The Cincinnati Atlas announces the discovery, by a Mr. Solomon, of a new motive power, which looks exceedingly promng on paper, at least. The Atlas says

On Monday last, an engine was kept in operation On Monday last, an engine was kept in operation during the day, and hundreds of spectators witnessed and were astonished at its success. The neuropeoper is obtained by the generation and expansion, by heat, of carbonic acid gas. Common whiting sulphuric acid and water, are used in generating this gas, and the "boiler" in which these component parts are held is similar in shape and size to a common bomb-shell. A small furnace, with a handfull of ignited charcoal, furnishes the requisite recognition this entire of 25 horse power. dull of gifted that can be seen and the seen of the se above boiling point give 1,080 lbs. 40 degrees give 2,160 lbs. 80 degrees 4,220 lbs—that is, 480 lbs greater power with this gas than 451 degrees of heat greater power was made into steam. Not only does this invention multiply power indefinitely, but if re-duces the expense to a merely nominal amount. The item of the for a first-class steamer between The item of fuel for a first-class steamer between cincinnati and New Orieans, going and returning, is between $1.000 and $1,200; whereas, $5 will furnish the material for propelling the same distance by carbon. Attached to the new engine is also an apparatus for condensing the gas after it has passed through the cylinders and returning it again to the starting place, thus using it over and over, and allowing none to escape. While the engine was in operation on Monday, it lifted a weight of 1,200 bs. up the distance of five feet perpendicular, five times every minute. The weight was put on by way of experiment, and does by no means indicate the ful power of the engine. Mr. Solomon will immediately commence the construction of another the same principle, of 350 horse power.

GROSS OUTRAGE. -- On Saturday night last, as we learn from The Albany State Register, the house of Hiram Shaw, of Berlin, Rensselaer Co., was invaded and broken into by fifty or saxly ruffans, disguised as Indians. These scamps dragged a young lady out of her bed and compelled her to furnish them with a light. They then proceeded to the hish them with a light. For their proceeded to the bedroom of Mr. Shaw and dragged him out by main force. After allowing him to dress, he was taken out of doers, placed in a wagen between two In-dians, and, amid the yelpings and howlings of an except of savages, driven about five miles to the yel-low meeting-house in Stephentown. Here they compelled him to strip, and applied to their prisoner meeting coat of tar, and then after threatening a pictiful coat of tar, and then, after threatening him with further and greater outrages, if he should ever do any more business for Lansing & Pruyn, and denseincing against him the penalty of death, in case he sold any more sixty-year lease land on which any one lived, they let him go. Mr. Shaw, says The Register, is a highly respectable citizen of Berlin, in the Comity of Remsseller, a larmer poseight years, a magistrate of that town. He has at times acted as agent for Mr Van Hensselher and others, and latterly for Messrs. Lansing & Priyn. This is his offense

NARROW ESCAPE OF AN ATLANTIC STAMER—The steamer Humboldt, on her passage from Havre to New-York, made a very narrow escape from total destruction on Cape Race, about escape from total destruction on Cape Race, about 26 miles south-east of the light. On Saturday morning, at half past 1, her passengers were all aroused by a shock precisely like striking some rock, and rushing on ceck they found the seamer brushedte a bold rock, apparently within half a ship's length. The terrible consternation, caused by the position of the ship, the rock, the dense for and about of the ship, the rock, the dense for and about of the ship, the rock, the dense for and about of the ship, the rock, the dense for and about of the ship, the rock, the dense for and about of the ship, the rock, the dense for and about of the ship, the rock is the same formal presented a scene sengers, both male and female, presented a scene which no one who witnessed if ever would desire to experience again. The commander and first officer of the steamer were both on deck, and saw the rock some time before they realized what it was s posing it to be a fog bank. And when the thrill posing it to be a fog bank. And when the thrilling command to starboard the below was heard below, and the engines suddenly stopped, a feeling of impending destruction to all on board was felt by many a bold heart. The very strong force of the Arcute current (so called) at this place, together with an uncommon variation of the compass, are the only reasons ascribed for the false position of the stap.

The New Protection against Fige. The following letter from an American in London, furnishes additional and interesting facts in relation to Phillips's "Fire Annihilator," which, if it is what it professes to be, is undoubtedly a most useful and wonderful dis-doubtedly a most useful and volument discovery:

Losnos, Friday, July 25, 1851.

The most extraordinary thing that I have witnessed since I left America, is Phillips's Fire Annihilator. Passing up Cheapside a few days since, I saw a streams of fame pouring out of the three-story windows of a Wholesale Cloth Establishment, and the building and contents seemed doomed to immedate destruction. I was within a few rods of the house, and as I approached the door, a man rushed in with a Portable Fire Annihilator in his hand. It was not larger than a common water-buckel, and weighed some 20 pounds. He ran into the third story, and within less time than it has taken me to write these few lines, every vestige of flame had been "annihilated" by the vapor which issued from the miraculous little machine. For a minute or two afterwards, the vapor was seen issuing from the windows, then all was over. The fire was extinguished I was so much astonished at the marvelous results of which I was an eye-witness, that, hastened to discover and visit the inventor of this Fire Annihilator. At his establishment I examined, the machine, and tried several experimeris, each of which satisfied me that this is beyond all question hastened to discover and visit the inventor of this Free Annihilator. At his establishment I cammined the machine, and tried several experiments, each of which satisfied me that this is beyond all question the most valuable discovery of the age.

The vapor contained in this little machine, acts upon flame exactly as the damp in a well acts upon a lighted candle. Flame cannot exist an instant in the vapor. The vapor rashes from the little machine with as much force as steam flame falls before it as quick as the lightining flash. The effect is inconceivable, and the triumph over fire is near-velous beyond conception. A great and valuable addition to the utility of this invention is that this vapor can be breathed without injury. The consequence is, a man with one of these little machines may protect himself with the vapor sad enter into, the midst of the fercest flames with perfect impanity. They fall before him in an instant.

Depend upon it, that scarcely a house in Asher ica will be without one or more of these machines within a year, and you will see that fire insurance offices and fire engine companies will be numbered among the things that were. The amount of prey perty and human life, of toil and irouble that this intte miracle will save, is beyond comparation. Truly yours.
